| ABOUT US

About Us

AVAST Solutions was born of a desire to unify and simplify the ever expanding world of audio visual and smart home technology

Avast specialise in installing cutting edge, market leading audio visual, lighting, security, networking and home management products and combine them under one control solution.

We create solutions for properties from large whole home projects to small single room installations. We take control of conception and system design, to installation and after-care, creating relationships that grow and evolve as your environment does.

What We Do

AVAST Solutions specialise in the residential sector and have successfully completed projects of all sizes, from the small to the very large. We work with private individuals, developers, builders and architects to deliver the highest quality luxury services built on a relationship that's designed to last.

WHAT WE DO |

| SMART LIGHTING

Smart Lighting

Smart lighting and shading systems are the cornerstone of any smart home installation. Flipping the preconception of lighting as an “on/off” entity, smart lighting gives your home lifeblood and a true sense of theatre and presence. Infinite control of your home begins with the ability to fade the whole building from on to off and vice versa with the single touch of a button.

AVAST Solutions are approved designers and installers of Lutron HomeWorks and Rako Controls lighting and shading systems, the de facto names in luxury lighting. Lighting design is, without question, as important as architectural and interior design – creative, luxury lighting of the home simply cannot be achieved with conventional lighting.

Smart lighting systems provide you with the opportunity to select scenes to perfectly complement the mood, time of day, actions and building occupation.

Home Automation

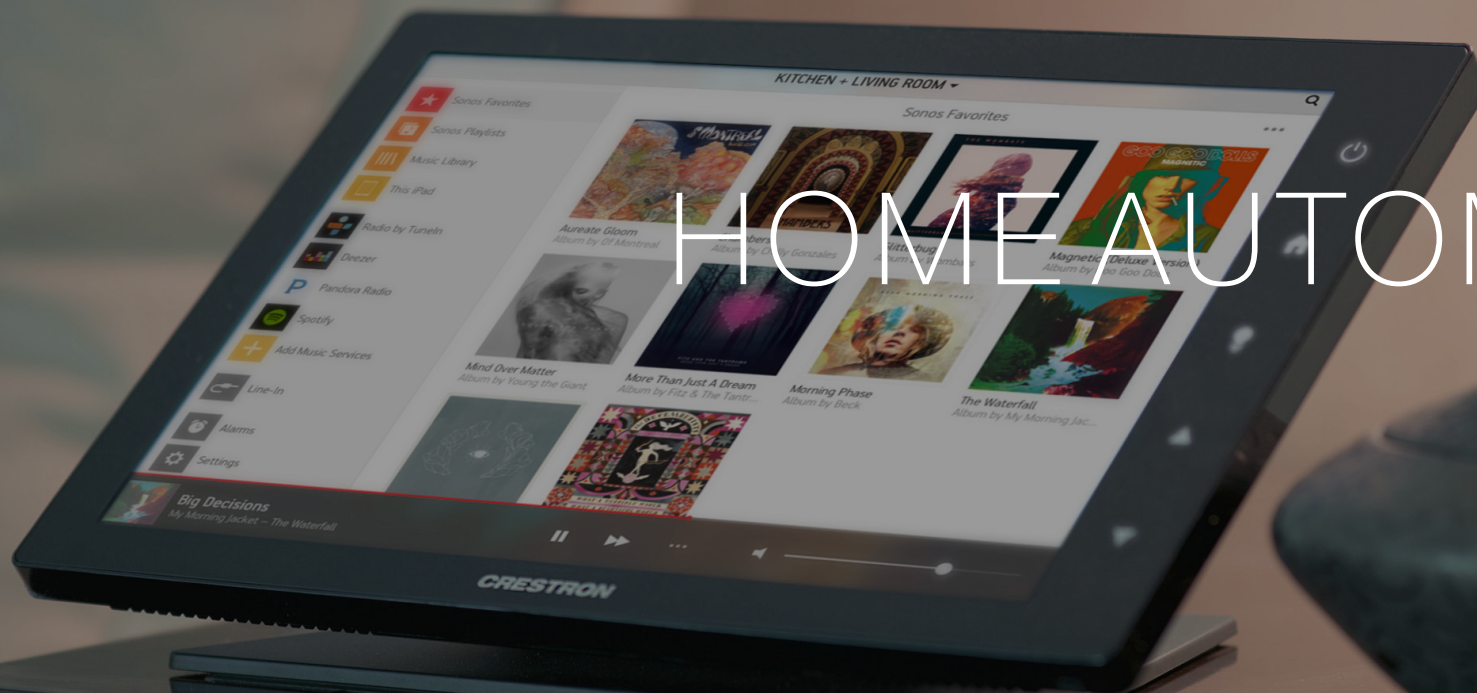

Home automation as a term refers to the encompassing control of all your home's elements. AVAST Solutions specialise in controlling every facet of your home, which we achieve through our market-leading home automation solutions. Think of home automation as the brain of your building, telling it what to do and when.

AVAST Solutions are approved designers and installers of Crestron, RTI and KNX automation systems, the de facto names in luxury home automation.

AVAST Solutions install market-leading home automation solutions designed to simplify the interactions with your house, by bringing all smart home technology under one umbrella. In its very simplest form this would be replacing your TV, amplifier, DVD and Sky remote controllers with a single, simple-to-use device. From there the sky really is the limit.

| HOME CINEMA

Home Cinema

Home cinemas were historically the preserve of the super wealthy, but now with the increase in high quality digital video content in blistering 4K and above, their popularity is certainly on the rise. AVAST Solutions specialise in the design, fabrication and installation of the highest quality home cinema systems to suit any budget.

From conception to installation, AVAST Solutions are experts in what it takes to create a jaw-dropping home cinema experience. We offer turnkey packages for standalone home cinemas or their creation as part of a larger home automation system. From design through to construction, programming and handover, we'll work with you to understand your specific requirements to create a truly bespoke and impressive space for you and your family to enjoy.

Audio Visual Solutions

Often installed as part of larger home automation systems, luxury audio visual treatment is core to any modern smart home. Distribute a world of streamed audio and a wealth of high resolution video throughout your home across a simple backbone of quality cabling infrastructure.

From conception to installation AVAST Solutions are experts in audio visual systems. Our discreet, professional audio visual systems are designed to complement your interior design and are easily controlled in the palm of your hand, as we've come to expect with all modern technology.

AUDIO VISUAL

| SMART SECURITY

Smart Security

Smart security goes hand in hand with whole home automation and is becoming a key part of any installation. In the days where we use our fingerprints and facial recognition to access our emails, why don't we apply the same level of technology to our homes? Well, AVAST Solutions do – we install market-leading security systems to keep your home and loved ones safe and secure when you turn off for the night.

In a world where criminals are using increasingly clever and technological tactics, the majority of security providers are playing catch up. But AVAST Solutions are leading the way in smart home security, employing many techniques and products tried and tested by top-line commercial and government bodies to ensure we're always one step ahead of criminals – and even further ahead of our competitors.

Totally Bespoke Solutions

As custom integrators and installers of totally bespoke systems, we pride ourselves in being completely unique in our approach to projects and the interesting criterias they often have.

Our residential systems have applications so diverse, we're confident that we can offer you a solution to any application you require. Some of our totally unique projects to date have included:

- Fully itemised and digitised Crestron smart wine cellar
- Crestron controlled and integrated safe room
- Large articulated and automated external facade
- Fully autonomous holiday home with occupancy AI
- Hidden TV walls with automated moving joinery
